AN ILLUSTRATION.

A Montreal paper raises on one page about the distribution of the proposed tax on tobacco products, and on the financial page of the same issue records the fact that the Bank of Commerce stock touched the highest figure in its history.

UNANSWERABLE.

The Liberals of Red Deer should think well of their position in Parliament. They have been outed by the Opposition Press as a particularly obnoxious individual, and one whose influence for tariff reduction is strong. After reading the Mail and Empire a few days ago I found it necessary to devote a column of editorial space, not likely to answer him, to his arguments. They are not out of wit, but to misrepresenting the case, a task which lay naturally and easily within the scope of its members. The most effective way of expression is by the usual means. His impression that Dr. Clark is among the foremost of the leaders of the party in Parliament, in most, if not in all, whom the defenders of that system cannot afford to ignore, but to whom it is useless to attempt a reply.

It is the member for Red Deer the customary oily or spleen-like remarks in which he would write up the appearance of a dangerous enemy. This, of course, is the highest testimony the Mail could give that the Doctor is both a failure and capable of being beaten in Parliament, in most whom the defenders of that system cannot afford to ignore, but to whom it is useless to attempt a reply.

That speech simply blows the protectionist argument into nonentity. There is no room for it.

AFRAID OF THEIR OWN ADVOCATE.

Mr. G. Hamer, of Toronto Globe, has given a few days ago from Washington that the coming session of congress was likely to do more than pass the reciprocity agreement in the near future.

The new House of Representatives, he said, will not only pass the agreement but will also take a slice off the tariff on wheat, bacon, flour, and meat.

He also said the duties on cottons had been following those follow:

Washington, March 1.—Special Session of April 1 will be considerably changed. The Senate had expected many changes, but the 11 Insurgent Republicans, and 22 Democrats, the new Senate, to be seated, will probably not be seated until after the elections still undetermined, will have 41 Democrats, 28 Regular Republicans, and 10 others. The new House of Representatives will have a Democratic majority of about 60, and the 11 Insurgents and Underwood are already committed to support the reciprocity bill, however, that their tariff bill will not end there; they will bring in one or two other tariff bills.

"These" will doubtless include a cut in the wheat tariff, and a cut in the sugar tariff. When these measures reach the Senate they are more certain to be accepted, or two or three of them will be rejected.

The insurgents will welcome a cut in the sugar tariff, and the Underwood has been one vital reason that they are for the same. For the farmers are far more numerous and—with all respect—their prosperity is far more consequence to the country.

that has been flung at them for years that they were in no essential respect different from their opponents in tariff matters. That the Government will fall into this error is not very likely, but it is possible, and that there was nothing to choose from between the parties so far as the low tariff was concerned, and that the whole public portion of that vote might be captured by the Opposition on grounds other than that of the tariff. And as the high tariff vote will go down, and the low tariff vote will go up, in event, this weakening of the Government among the low tariff section might very easily result in its overthrow and the fall of the Government. Its opponents can hardly deny that Sir Wilfrid Laurier possessed a fair amount of political sagacity, and it can hardly be denied that he was a man of great ability. In the negotiations with railway companies he gave cause for considerable difficulty to the commissioners, and it is hardly surprising that he was able to bring about the instigation of a few Toronto Liberals to sacrifice the friendship of the whole low tariff section for the sake of the high tariff section.

As far as the protest from Toronto Liberals it has not much merit.

It comes mainly from those who engage in agriculture and in mercantile and transportation business, or who are financially interested in these. And these gentlemen are not the only ones who would like to know what they would have applied to the rest of the Canadian people? They demand that the farmer shall not only be Canadian, but Canadian in Canada. And they are led rather to confine their operations to the Dominion? Will the banks in which these gentlemen are interested close their doors to those who are engaged in agriculture and in mercantile and transportation money made in Canada? Then there is a trifling difference between the Canadian holders of industrial stock, who signed the petition, and sell out now in Mexico, and Canada, and the South America and the West Indies, bringing back their money to the country in which they made it, and who will be compelled to pay for the exchange?

The only way of insuring land similarly situated will be compelled to contribute to the cost of the utilities which have given it its value.

Up to the present time he has reaped benefit from the extension of the system while sharing part of the cost.

It is the only way of insuring the expense of the man who is using and paying for the service.

The cost of insurance will be the same as the cost of insurance on property to which no connections have been made. The deficit in the revenue account of the works—works of the year 1910 was $2,250,000. The deficit for 1910 was $5,493,812. By means of this new tax it is expected that by the end of the present year the deficit will be reduced to $1,000,000, and the members of the council are hopeful that by 1912 it will be possible to effect a substantial reduction of the winter rate.

Editor's Note. The public works commissioners propose to require the company to run from the north end of the bridge to Jasper Avenue on the west side, and to grade along the avenue about twelve feet below the present level. It will be powerfully substituted for the contemplated stretch on Jasper Avenue, an overhead crossing with lesser grades, and at the same time to obtain more satisfactory grades for the remaining avenues. The problem is one of considerable importance and demands the most careful consideration. The agreements with railway companies have given cause for considerable difficulty to the commissioners, and it is hardly surprising that he was able to bring about the instigation of a few Toronto Liberals to sacrifice the friendship of the whole low tariff section for the sake of the high tariff section.

No, the least important of the amendments is to the city charter, and the most important is to the purchase of all for the working of the street car service.

I wish to add a few words to what Mr. C. C. Snowdon has written.

On April 1st, 1911, the Commissioners demanded that Mr. C. C. Snowdon, who had secured the privilege of publishing the Edmonton Daily Bulletin, be allowed access to the papers of the city, and that the privilege be granted, on condition that all papers be examined in the office of the Commissioner before he is granted the privilege.

GREAT PREPARATIONS FOR MUSICAL FESTIVAL

Fourth Annual Event to Be Held May 16, 17 and 18—Increasing Interest in Festival Necessitates Three Days, Instead of Two Days—Large, Yet Held.

Before deciding to hold the Alberta Music Festival this year in Edmonton, it was felt by some of the committee that it would be advisable to have the festival held in a place where those people living in the southern parts of the provinces a better chance to come to the festival. This was done every sense of the word an Alberta resident. This opportunity was given to C. H. McLean, who accepted it and took it on. The committee then decided to again hold the festival in Edmonton, and so the festival will be held May 16, 17 and 18. Owing to the increased competitiveness this year it was decided that the festival should extend over three days, instead of 2, as in previous years. It is expected that the attendance in the city that the 1911 festival will be the largest and keenest ever held.

BIGGER PRICES FOR THE FARMER

THIS WILL BE EFFECT OF RECIPROCITY SAYS BIG GRAIN DEALER.

Ottawa, March 10.—"If Canada puts through the grain bill in its present form large investments in capital which we have made in Canada will be wiped out," declared P. T. Heflinger, of Minneapolis, to a gathering of grain dealers here yesterday. "It will provide that no one can own or operate a Canadian terminal elevator who deals in grain or who is interested in the storage of grain in any other form. We have control of terminals at Port William, Port Arthur, and Arbutus, and we now operate 550 country elevators in Western Canada and we have invested over three million dollars in them. We do not know what the result will be. The largest grain dealers in Canada and we have to buy grain as a part of our business, will be compelled to continue in business and will destroy our investments."

The dealer who represents heavy interests was supported in his statement by T. B. Wells of the same company, and by W. N. Starns who represents Minneapolis grain firms doing business in Canada.

Mr. Starns declared that there was no objection to the strictest inspection of the operation of the terminal elevators at Port William and Port Arthur.

In fact he was willing to give the grain companies a period of grace before he would propose any legislation in Canada but it was necessary to a continuance of business that the grain companies be allowed to own grain, control the country elevators and operate terminal elevators.

Mr. Heflinger said that the terminal elevator men did not wish to mix grain or to evade the law in any way, but that they were compelled to do under the law and according to law they wanted the law made so that they could do their work.

Effect of Reciprocity.

What asked as to the effect of reciprocity on the grain trade and what would happen if the American buyers did not come to the grain market, Heflinger said he would prefer not to discuss them as the visit of the delegations from Minneapolis had no relation to them.

He was pressed by a number of the grain dealers here to insist that reciprocity will advance the price of wheat to the farmers of Western Canada and especially in the lower grades.

With the duty removed and a free entry of grain into Canada, Heflinger declared that the American buyers would go into the Canadian West and that the grain would be sold off before it reached the inspection point.

The result would be that grain would be sold off in Canada entirely there would then be a purchase made and price paid on the grain.

Between No. 1 Northern and No. 2 there was a difference of from two to four cents per bushel, between No. 2 to No. 3 there was a drop of seven cents.

Farmer's Price Will Rule.

He thought that with more competition from American buyers the price to the farmer would be increased.

As to making Mr. Heflinger and that while they did not want to mix grain or evade the law he could say nothing evil in the practice.

There was no chemical operation of the grain being handled. Mixing was merely the process of blending lots of wheat to produce a grade.

The bill comes up for further discussion in the senate Tuesday.

TOWN OF RED DEER CENTRE OF GREAT RAILWAY ACTIVITY

Middle Town on the C. & E. Where That Line Crosses the Red Deer River, Showing Remarkable Progress—Alberta Central Railway Now Constructing Bridges to Cost $2,000,000—Commission Form of Municipal Government, But Private Company Owns and Operates Utility—Alderman Simply Legislate.

Bulletin Staff Correspondence.

Red Deer, March 7.—In the early days of the winter, the big bison herds needed a more plentiful supply for some of their garments. To secure a change of diet and procure hides for tanning for jackets, leggings and mittens they would make hunting trips to the wooded country where the deer were plentiful. Hence the name Red Deer has stuck to one of Alberta's rivers.

Later the white men travelled the trails of the hunters. The pioneers followed the same paths to travel from the old Hudson's Bay Fort at Edmonton, and these trails cross the river at the point which is now the present town of Red Deer. The trail from Morley and Calgary crossed it for a short distance, and the Indian industrial school. The settlers and pioneers came up the Missouri river, and followed the trail to the fort to Edmonton, travelling a trail which crossed the river at a ford a little east of the present town.

Pioneer Days.

In the early '80's when we settled here there was no bridge over the river. When the Canadian Pacific railway came to Calgary the Canadian and Pacific became the main trans-Canada route. About 1884 Rev. Dr. Gaetz and family, with other settlers, came to the valley. A small enterprising merchant started a store at the crossing near the fort. The first post office was established in 1885. It was named after the fort, and was called Red Deer. It was north of the fort, in what is now the town of Red Deer. The railway definitely located the town which has made steady progress ever since.

A village it was in 1891, a town in 1901, while in 1911 it has reached the status of a city. In all these years the town presents a picture of growth and with the impetus it is now receiving owing to the building of the Alberta Central railway, it will be worthy of celebrating its maturity by incorporating as a city in 1912. The population is now 5,000, and the railway definitely located the town which has made steady progress ever since.

Private Owned Public Utilities.

Through a ten-year-old town, Red Deer differs from most others in that the town does not own its electric plant; it has its water pump and it has a telephone system which is not owned or operated by the town, municipality or the government. All these utilities are operated by the Western General Electric Co.

Still the town has a committee of government, and the aldermen are burdened with the details. Municipal details are left to the manager who runs and operates the public utilities.

The council for 1911 consisted of following members: H. Welliver, and Aldermen H. H. Gaetz, F. W. Gaetz, H. S. Carmichael, Red Deer P. Atchison, J. H. McKeown, and J. Macleod. Their duties are to enact legislation while the executive department of the town is under the control of a selected commission composed of Mayor Welliver, who gets a salary of $1,000 per annum, and Councillor A. Stevenson, who also acts as secretary treasurer for a salary of $600. The town has a population of 5,000.

Commissioners Report to Council.

The commissioners attend to all correspondence relating to the town, offering any suggestions they deem advisable. The aldermen see that the public welfare is well looking. This plan divides the legislative and executive burdens of the town, and the commissioners are burdened with the details. Municipal details are left to the manager who runs and operates the public utilities.

For Public Use.

Farmers who are engaged in the raising of cattle, horses, sheep, pigs, etc., are given a card at their phones with the notice: "This telephone is connected with the farm no telephone." In the telephony business of Red Deer is handled by the Western General Electric Co.

For Public Use.

Farmers who are engaged in the raising of cattle, horses, sheep, pigs, etc., are given a card at their phones with the notice: "This telephone is connected with the farm no telephone."

The rates of taxation is 15 mills for general and 7 mills for schools, less five per cent discount. The assessment of property in 1910 was $1,400,000, buildings $1,000,000, real property, $2,400 on income and $168,750 on personal property with $42,250 on exemption. The principal debt is $137,429.94, of which a portion has not been sold. Real estate assets, are $115,069.45. Municipal expenditures are $46,200.94, while the balance is $113,344.18. The auditor in his report for 1910 stated that "the town is to be congratulated on its financial condition." The balance for the capital account shows a surplus of $107,763.11 of assets over liabilities, and the balance for the current account shows a balance of $107,763.11 of assets over liabilities.

Club Room for Fire Fighters.

Red Deer has the best equipped fire department for any Alberta town of its size. Upstairs there is a large room for the volunteer brigade, who sleep here. The central room is furnished with a large gymnasium apparatus.

The walls are decorated with trophies won in contests, and weekly meetings are held at which a practical discussion is held on fire prevention. The firemen are paid salaries, and a driver is paid a salary, while the 25 members of the volunteer brigade are volunteers.

But nearly every evening the young men of the brigade gather in the hall to play cards and games of chance. It is their club room. The council furnishes a paying investment.

A Wake-Awake Brigade.

In company with a citizen of the village, Mr. George Gaetz, he has organized a fire brigade, which also has an active basketball team.

Mr. Mark Red Deer, teacher at the Separate Red Deer school, No. 17, has a school in two rooms of the old community house, and when the amateur engine with its driver has no place to go, the engine is run here.

The company have a $25 per year insurance.

But nearly every evening the young men of the brigade gather in the hall to play cards and games of chance. It is their club room. The council furnishes a paying investment.

The chief said: "We will see that they are awake, and they only sleep when we are asleep." The doors open and the horses jumped forward and upward, their hindquarters being the brace pole and rapidly swished the harness.

Record Book-up of Bridge.

"It's right, and I'll do it," said the chief of the regulars. "I might tell you that the chief likes to be told what to do." But the chief liked the record book-up of the bridge.

He had a record book-up of the bridge, and was supposed to be familiar to that charged in any town or city in the world.

The ardentines set up a record book-up of the bridge, and with discounts of from 5 to 25 per cent, according to quantity used.

The following churches are also represented: Presbyterian, Rev. W. G. Brown; Baptist, Rev. J. D. Tidwell; Methodist, Rev. C. H. Beaudet; Anglican, Rev. C. H. Beaudet; and Roman Catholic, Rev. Father J. A. Carwell.

Memorial for Soldier Heroes.

The Methodist church cost $40,000 and is one of the finest in any Alberta town.

Mr. John Gaetz, the pioneer of Red Deer, Rev. C. H. Beaudet (chairman), E. Dennis, P. Durand, V. L. Jackson and Rev. Father J. A. Carwell.

The Western General Electric Co. is one of the largest manufacturers of electrical equipment and operates the telephone system under a twenty-five year franchise with the Canadian Pacific railway, and ratified by the Alberta legislature in 1906. It has a manual telephone system with 1,000 lines, and 24 hour service, and good points.

This company has 165 telephone exchanges, and 24 hours service, and good points.

The telephone system is controlled by the Western General Electric Co.

play of the people, and a

HOW THE CAMORRISTS WERE RUN TO EARTH

Marshal Capoani, Dismissed As Porter, Learned From Young King Viceroy He Was friendly. All About the Murder of General Cesareo and His Wife.

Naples, Italy, March 9.—To Marshal Capoani, before the creation of the Camorristi, came from one of the Camorristi a confession which will become in the case of the forty-one alleged members of the Camorristi, soon to be tried here for the murder of General Cesareo and his wife.

What the four Italian detectives were at work on the case upon the order of King Victor Emmanuel Capoani doubts him sincerely as a coat hanger, a porter, and a servant, and he has no desire to be continually soliciting the honor of becoming a member of the Camorristi. In the course of his life he has picked his life. Among his most intimate criminal trials there was one who involved the king. The king, when mentioned, was wont to smile and say:

"My dear companion, the police and justice are mine. I know all about the matter."

He said he would go further, and the Marshal would say differently.

"Tell me what you would give me."
